SOUTH-WEST AFRICA COMMITTEE

INDEPENDENCE DEBATE CONTINUES

PRACTICAL SOLUTION SOUGHT

THE SOVIET UNION LAST WEEK CALLED FOR AN IMMEDIATE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE for South West Africa and the setting of a short time-limit for the withdrawal of South Africa from the territory.

Ambassador Platon Morozov told the Special Committee for South West Africa that the forthcoming special session of the General Assembly must completely liquidate the racist regime in South West Africa and that this meant the withdrawal of all South African troops and administration.

The Ambassador said that United States policy toward South Africa was "in the long" determined by the in-

DANCON I KAMP MOD SYRIENS TO BEDSTE FODBOLDHOLD

DANCON'S FODBOLDHOLD HAR I DEN FORLØBNE UGE SOM bekendt gæstet Syrien som regeringens indbudte, og der blev spillet to kampe, begge i Damascus. Kampene blev afviklet på Damascus Stadion, og de aftvang en kæmpe-publikumsinteresse, idet der på den første dag, fredag, der er muhamedansk helligdag, var fyldt på tilskuerspladserne, hvilket vil sige ca. 6.000 tilskuere, medens der ved søndagens kamp - og søndagen er muhamedansk hverdag - var ca. 4.000. Kampene blev dog overværet af adskilligt flere, idet de begge i deres fulde længde blev transmitteret af såvel det syriske fjernsyn som af den syriske radio.

Den første kamp var så afgjort langt den bedste set fra et dansk synspunkt. Den blev spillet mod den syriske hær's udvalgte hold, som er det førende inden for den syriske fodboldturnering. Syrerne begyndte deres vane tro med at storme det danske mål, men da det ikke gav bonus, varede det ikke længe, før danskerne fik tag på spillet, som nu bølgede frem og tilbage på begge banehalvdele. Efter ca. 15 minutters spil fik syrene tilkendt et hjørnespark, som resulterede i skud på mål, men DANCON's målmand klarede i fineste stil. Kort efter havde løjtnant Hansen et nærgående skud på det syriske mål, men bolden strøg lige over overliggeren. I den følgende halve times tid blev der vist udmærket spil i marken af begge hold. Syrerne havde nogle næsvise skud på DANCON's mål, men målmanden klarede strålende, hvilket flere gange fik de syriske tilskuere til at applaudere ham voldsomt. Begge hold fik flere hjørnespark, og efter et af dem havde syrerne et kæmpekiks, som nær havde givet mål, men den danske højre back, oversergent Kristensen, klarede på målstregen. 10 minutter før halvlegens slutning scorede syrerne på et godt skud, som DANCON's målmand var uden chance for at redde, og få minutter før halvtid øgede de til 2-0 med et mål, som man heller ikke kan laste den danske målmand for.

I begyndelsen af anden halvleg havde danskerne fint samling over deres spil, og man begyndte så småt at håbe på, at de ville åbne scoringen, men bolden havde åbenbart bestemt sig til, at den ikke ville i det syriske målnet. Efter 12 minutters spil blev sergent Rasmusen ramt hårdt i ansigtet af en bold. Næsen sprang op at bløde, og han måtte uden for banen i 3-4 minutter. Herunder reddede den danske målmand meget fint et velplaceret syrisk skud til hjørne, og kampen fortsatte i de næste ca. 25 minutter med pænt spil fra begge sider. 7 minutter før tid scorede syrerne til kampens endelige resultat, 3-0, og i den resterende del af kampen havde begge hold flere chancer, der dog ikke gav bonus.

På det danske hold var målmanden, oversergent Sørensen, så klart den bedste, idet han klarede mange gode skud fra syrerne og ikke kan lastes for et eneste af de tre mål, der gik ind hos ham. Endvidere var i forsvaret sergent Knudsen en særdeles habil stopper, medens man i angrebet navnlig lagde mærke til sergent Pedersen og løjtnant Hansen, der begge viste særdeles godt spil i marken.

Den anden kamp blev spillet mod det syriske politis hold, som er nummer 2 i den syriske fodboldturnering. Ligesom militærholdet pressede politiets hold hårdt fra starten. Dette skabte tilsyneladende en del forvirring på DANCON's hold, og efter ca. 10 minutters spil blev det 1-0 til syrerne på et hjørnespark. Målet var efter vor mening off side, og det samme mente åbenbart den danske målmand, oversergent Sørensen, thi han rørte sig overhovedet ikke efter bolden. Imidlertid vinkede linievogteren ikke, og dommeren var placeret på en sådan måde, at han ikke kunne se, så målet var en kendsgerning. Allerede efter kun ca. 2 minutters yderligere spil fik syrerne pány hjørnespark, som de scorede på, og det tør jo nok siges at være lidt af en chockstart. Syrerne havde nu overtaget indtil ca. 10 minutter før halvlegens slutning, uden at det dog lykkedes dem at score, og i slutningen af halvleg fik DANCON organiseret sit spil på en sådan måde, at man turde håbe på en god anden halvleg.

Heller ikke i anden halvleg levede danskerne op til spillet fra kampen mod det militære hold. Syrerne pressede hårdt, og efter 6 minutters spil lykkedes det dem at score til 3-0. Det kneb forfærdeligt for DANCON at få form over spillet, og resten af halvlegen formede sig faktisk som meget trivielt fodbold, uden at nogen af holdene viste noget særligt.

Naturligvis er vi lidt skuffede over resultatet, men der er dog en hel del ting, vi skal huske på. Det dette hold. De træner kondition og boldøvelser 3 timer hver dag, og de har betydelig større kamptræning, end vort hold har det med sine fem kampe forud. Alligevel gik vore spillere til kampen med et gå på-mod som aldrig før, de fightede kampen igennem, de viste udmærket spil, og de gjorde absolut en god figur. De var efter den første kamp særdeles populære blandt befolkningen, der kendte dem fra fjernsynet, og når de gik på gaden, stod folk stille og sagde: Se, der er danskerne.

Politiholdet bliver trænet på samme måde som militærholdet og er altså også at betragte som professionelle. Når vore i kampen mod dem ikke spillede op til deres standard fra den første kamp, skyldes det sikkert to ting, som står i nær forbindelse med hinanden. For det første er det hårdt at skulle spille to sådanne kampe med kun en dag imellem, og for det andet skal der meget større kamptræning til, for at man kan gøre det. Vi er overbevist om, at DANCON med intensiv fælles- og kamptræning vil være jævnbyrdige modstandere for det syriske "landshold", og havde vi kunnet spille lige så godt i den anden kamp som i den første, havde vi utvivlsomt vundet den.

Billedet viser en af oversergent Sørensens pragtredninger i kampen mod det udvalgte militære hold.

Tirsdag den 21. februar 1967 fandt den store samlede uddeling af FN-medaljer sted for DANCON's vedkommende.

Begivenheden kendtegnedes ved en storstilet parade på fodboldbanen bag Mermaid Bar. Til stede var bl.a. Force Commander, General A.E. Martola, som overrakte medaljen til chefen for DANCON. Oberstløjtnant Ladegaard-Mikkelsen dekorerede derefter stab og kompagnichefer, hvorefter kompagnicheferne uddelte medaljer til de inden for de respektive kompagnier, der skulle have dem overrakt. MOUNTAIN RESCUE BY CHOPPER

ON SUNDAY 19th FEBRUARY 1967 A PARTY OF FOUR FINNS, under Captain Pentti Sadeniemi set out to climb Pentadactylus — the 'Five Fingers Mountain' — in the Kyrenia range.

The party succeeded in reaching the summit of the right-hand 'finger' — as viewed from Nicosia — and then decided to attempt the next peak to their left. All went well until the 'lead man,' Private Pekka Silvennoinen — who is the FINCON photographer — was unfortunate to find himself in a position in which he was unable to either ascend — he was about 50 feet from the top — or to retrace his route back to safer ground, because of the extreme steepness of the cliff face at that point. (Experienced climbers will know that it is often more difficult to descend from a given position than to climb higher).

The rescue helicopter approaching Pte. Silvennoinen, who took this photograph. The out-board winch and sling can be seen above the main exit door.

After various attempts had been made to help him from the ledge upon which he was stranded, Captain Sadeniemi descended the mountain and went to the near-by radio-relay station, where he requested assistance. The message was passed to 72 Sqn (Det) RAF UN. A helicopter piloted by Flt Sgt Jim Lawn, and with Sgt Ken Torkington and Sgt Hank Dawson as crew, proceeded to the area. On the way they stopped to pick up Captain Sadeniemi, who was to show them the exact location of Pte Silvennoinen.

Then followed a dangerous ten minutes. The helicopter hovered as close to the cliff face as possible whilst a cable was lowered down to the man on the ledge. On the end of the cable — which was controlled by Sgt Torkington — was Hank Dawson. They soon managed to winch Pekka Silvennoinen into the aircraft and flew him to safety.

At any time during this difficult manoeuvring a sudden gust of wind might have blown the helicopter against the mountain with disastrous results for all concerned.

In recognition of the skill and bravery of the RAF personnel, and as a token of thanks for the rescue of one of their number, the four climbers presented their benefactors with a crate of one dozen bottles of 'White Horse' whisky and a signed statement — on vellum — of their gratitude and admiration.

The wording of the statement was as follows:

"TO THE MEN OF THE ROYAL AIR FORCE who worked together in the rescue of Private Pekka Silvennoinen, FinCon, from the Five Fingers Mountain on the 19th of February 1967.

We wish to offer this gift to you to express our gratitude and admiration of the men to whom we owe, it seems certain, the life of one of us.

THE DAWN OF MAJUBA

ANNIVERSARY OF THE BATTLE OF PAARDEBERG

THE 27th OF FEBRUARY IS A VERY SPECIAL DAY FOR THE ROYAL Canadian Regiment. It is the sixty seventh anniversary of the Battle of Paardeberg.

CANADA'S FIRST WAR

The Battle of Paardeberg took place during the South African War of 1899 to 1901. This war was a first for Canada. When war erupted the Canadian Government offered to the United Kingdom an infantry Battalion and a cavalry element. These men were drawn from the larger population centres across Canada. They came from towns such as Vancouver, Winnipeg, Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal, Saint John, Halifax and Charlottetown. Eight independent companies were formed into The Second (Special Service) Battalion, The Royal Canadian Regiment under the command of Lieutenant Colonel W.D. Otter. The Battalion and the Canadian Mounted Rifles concentrated at Québec; then sailed on the SS Sardinia for South Africa Oct 30, 1899, the first overseas commitment for a contingent of Canadian troops.

The Canadian contingent, after disembarkation, took part in most of the battles as part of 19 Brigade. By the 13th of February, 1900 they began to close up to the river in a series of long hot marches.

DAWN OF MAJUBA

The Battle of Paardeberg began in the very early hours of the morning of the 27th and lasted almost the full day. The King's Own Shropshire Light Infantry, the Gordon Highlanders and the Duke of Cornwall Regiment also took part in the battle. During the battle the Boers under the famous General Cronje were defeated and when the battle was over General Cronje surrendered to The RCR. The victory was referred to as The Dawn of Majuba because the British defeat in 1881 at Majuba Hill during the build-up to all-out war had been avenged.

THE QUEEN'S SCARF OF HONOUR

It was during this battle that an Irish - Canadian, Pte. R.R. Thompson, was awarded the Queen's Scarf of Honour on the basis of a vote from his comrades.

There were five of these scarves crocheted personally by Queen Victoria, one to be given to each of the Commonwealth contingents. To earn the scarf a man had to be recommended for the Victoria Cross and subsequently recommended for the Cross again. As a medical assistant, Pte. Thompson justly earned the honour by saving many of his wounded comrades who were under heavy fire.

The Queen's Scarf was returned from Ireland to Canada by Pte. Thompson's family in 1965. Accepted by General Georges P. Vanier, Governor-General, it now resides in the Canadian War Museum in Ottawa.

PAARDEBERG DAY

But Paardeberg day commemorates more than just this battle. It commemorates all the victories and battles fought by The Royal Canadian Regiment during its eighty - three years. The Regimental Birthday on 21 December is the only other regimental holiday. Therefore, to this day the 27th of February is always celebrated by The RCR no matter where the Regiment may be.

LOCAL CELEBRATIONS

This year Paardeberg was celebrated by the First Battalion on UN Peacekeeping duties in Cyprus, the 2nd Battalion in Germany and the Home Station in London, Canada. On the 27th of February, each year, RCR officers and men will gather together for Paardeberg Day no matter where they be.

Here in Cyprus the Royal Canadians celebrated in the traditional manner of declaring a holiday and holding a sports day. Special meals were served and of course the free issue of beer was enjoyed by everyone. Towards the end of the day the officers of the First Battalion all gathered at the Coeur de Lion for the Annual Paardeberg mess dinner.

KYRENIA CONVOY

Finnish outriders and Canadian scout cars bring another car convoy through the direct road from Nicosia to Kyrenia.

ESCORT DUTIES

THE RECCE SQUADRON OF THE FORT GARRY HORSE FROM CALGARY, ALBERTA, since taking on the Kyrenia convoy duty Oct. 13 has escorted 548 convoys composed of 52,471 people and 14,977 vehicles along the 16-mile route from Nicosia to the port of Kyrenia, or the other way.

Figures were up to the end of the Sunday (February 26) convoy runs. Two round trips under UNFICYP escort are organized every day one in the morning and one in the afternoon.

In addition to the convoy commitment, the Garrys have done 120 surveillance patrols and begin Monday with 137,288 miles on their scout cars and other vehicles.

This squadron, which is due to rotate home to Canada in April, is the completion of a cycle of rotation in which each of the armoured regiments of the regular Canadian order of battle has had at least one reconnaissance squadron in Cyprus since the UN forces for peace-keeping were formed in 1964.

The Kyrenia convoy was formed in late fall of that year.

SECRETARY-GENERAL'S REPORT

SANCTIONS AGAINST RHODESIA

PORTUGAL HAS "POINTS OF DOUBT"

IN A FIRST REPORT TO THE SECURITY COUNCIL ON COMPLIANCE WITH ITS demand for selective sanctions against Southern Rhodesia, the Secretary-General states that a great majority of the 75 states which have so far submitted information have taken measures they consider necessary to comply with that demand.

He notes, however, that one member — Portugal — did not report any measures it had taken or contemplated but instead had asked for clarification of what it considered to be "points of doubt" raised by the Council resolution.

Furthermore, Portugal has stated that its "Province of Mozambique" is suffering severe financial and economic losses as a result of the embargo and has asked for consultations with the Security Council on the payment of compensation for that loss.

The Charter provides that states confronted with special economic problems "arising from the carrying out" of enforcement measures called for by the Security Council, shall have the right to consult the Council on a solution to those problems.

Zambia, Southern Rhodesia's neighbour to the north, has already requested and received a UN technical mission to study the whole problem of the serious difficulties it faces as a result of compliance with the Security Council's call for sanctions.

It has informed the Secretary-General that it has already adopted a policy aimed at severing all economic and trade connections with Southern Rhodesia, despite the fact that the economies of Zambia and Southern Rhodesia have "for the past 70 years been inextricably joined like Siamese twins" and that any sanctions aimed at Southern Rhodesia are bound

DISARMAMENT COMMITTEE

HALTING SPREAD OF NUCLEAR WEAPONS

NEGOTIATIONS RESUMED IN GENEVA

THE UN SECRETARY-GENERAL LAST WEEK URGED the 18-nation Disarmament Committee to "renew and intensify" its efforts to reach an agreement on the treaty to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons and on other disarmament measures.

In a message to the Committee as it resumed negotiations in Geneva, the Secretary-General pointed out that the General Assembly had asked the group to give high priority to the non-proliferation treaty, and had also urged an early conclusion of the treaty banning under-to disrupt the economy of Zambia.

Zambia has further stated that, although it is giving maximum co-operation in implementation of the sanctions called for, it does not believe they will be effective enough to bring down the illegal regime in Southern Rhodesia.

Another neighbour of Southern Rhodesia, Malawi, reports that it has taken various measures called for by the Council but, because of its geographical situation, is having to continue to import limited quantities of sugar, meat and meat products, having no immediate available alternative sources of supply.

Malawi has also said it is ready to enter into consultations with the Security Council on finding a solution.

Further replies are still being received to the Secretary-General's request for information on measures taken to comply with the Security Council's decision. At the time this first report was prepared, however, the Secretary-General notes that a substantial number of states have not yet answered, including certain states which have significant trade with Southern Rhodesia.

U THANT IN BURMA

The UN Secretary-General, U Thant, left New York on 22 February for a ten-day visit to his native land, Burma. He was scheduled to arrive in Rangoon on 24 February after an over-night stop in London. U Thant will return to UN Headquarters on 5 March.

deflect the Committee from its main task by making wholly false allegations against her country. She said it was the responsibility of all U.N. members to find a practical solution to the problem of South West Africa and added that the Soviet Union's proposals were lacking in "the essential of practicability".

The call for practicability in proposals also came from Ambassador Matti Cawen of Finland. He said the logic of the Assembly's resolution terminating South Africa's mandate pointed to United Nations machinery. He added that the Committee should also consider the question of access to South West Africa and the problem of how to introduce United Nations administration to the territory.

dies from the nuclear arms race. The other, signed in Mexico City on 14 February, is for the prohibition of nuclear weapons in Latin America—providing for the first nuclear-free zone in an inhabited portion of the earth.

Both these treaties, said the Secretary-General, were of importance in helping to prevent the further spread of nuclear weapons. They were also important, he said, as steps which could lead to other measures of disarmament.

He recalled other resolutions adopted at the last Assembly session that asked the Committee to consider the question of eliminating foreign military bases in Asia, Africa and Latin America, and to pursue new efforts toward an agreement on general and complete disarmament.

DECOLONIZATION COMMITTEE

CARIBBEAN TERRITORIES

VOLUNTARY ASSOCIATION WITH BRITAIN

IN THE UN DECOLONIZATION COMMITTEE, BRITAIN LAST WEEK described arrangements by which six Caribbean territories are soon to become states in association with the United Kingdom.

Peter Hope of Britain told the Committee that under their new status, the territories would enjoy a full measure of self-government, being completely autonomous in their internal affairs; and that this would mark the full discharge of his Government's obligations under the charter provisions for non-self-governing territories.

He added that under strictly voluntary association with Britain, each territory would be entirely free to declare itself independent at any time, to sever its association with Britain and enter into association with any other state.

These arrangements, he said, had been worked out in full consultation with the people concerned and freely accepted by them.

The territories concerned are Antigua, Dominica, Grenada, St. Kitts-Nevis-Anguilla, St. Lucia and St. Vincent.

$13 MILLION LOAN FOR EAST AFRICA

TO IMPROVE
COMMUNICATIONS

THE WORLD BANK LAST WEEK ANNOUNCED A $13 MILLION LOAN for the improvement and expansion of telephone and telegraph services in Kenya, Tanzania and Uganda.

Considerable distances between capital cities and other population centres make efficient telecommunication particularly important, both to facilitate Government administration and to meet the requirements of the countries' growing trade and commerce.
