UNFICYP MEDAL FOR DRAGOONS

COUNCIL TAKES ACTION ON SW AFRICAN TRIALS

The UN Security Council last Thursday unanimously adopted a resolution threatening "effective steps or measures" against South Africa if she did not promptly free 33 South West Africans tried and sentenced under her "Terrorism Act".

The UN Secretary-General was asked to follow the matter closely and report back on its implementation by the end of this month, with the Council keeping the issue open on its agenda.

The resolution was based on an African - Asian - Latin American draft, whose wording was modified in the course of intensive consultations in order to obtain unanimity.

It censured the Government of South Africa for her "flagrant defiance" of the United Nations on the trial issue. Both the UN General Assembly and the Council had earlier urged that the trial be halted and the accused set free on the grounds that South Africa had no jurisdiction over South West Africa since her old League of Nations mandate was ended by the UN in 1966.

The Council called upon UN Member States to cooperate with it in order to obtain South Africa's compliance.

Security Council Extends UNFICYP Mandate

The 15-nation UN Security Council last Monday extended the stay of the 4,700-man UN Peace-keeping Force in Cyprus for another three months with the hope that progress towards a settlement of the Cyprus question during that period would allow it to be substantially cut or withdrawn entirely.

The Council acted on the recommendation of the UN Secretary-General, U Thant, who reported last week that chances for a genuine peace between the Greek and Turkish Cypriot communities had never been better since civil strife erupted at the end of 1963 — but that the UN Force sent to the island four years ago was still needed.

Monday's Council resolution, unanimously adopted (see full text of resolution, P. 8), urged the parties to the dispute to act with the greatest restraint and to use the present auspicious opportunities to achieve peace objectives.

The Council's debate was marked by satisfaction at the great improvement in the situation in Cyprus, following last November's crisis that brought Turkey and Greece into an ominous military confrontation.

There was also general endorsement of the Secretary-General's plan to have his Special Representative in Cyprus, Mr B. F.

UN BODY TO DEBATE RHODESIA EXECUTIONS

The UN Security Council, prompted by a request from the 36-nation African Group of Member States, was scheduled to meet this week to consider sanctions required to bring down the white minority regime of Mr Ian Smith and to ensure self-determination for the country.

The African Group said in its letter of request that the selective mandatory economic sanction imposed by the Council over a year ago against the regime of Mr. Smith had been ineffective — as African nations had feared when they were decided on in December of 1966.

"The failure of these measures," the Group said, "has been dramatically demonstrated by the recent tragic assassination of political prisoners by the racist regime in Rhodesia. More such assassinations are planned and expected."

The African Group said that the Rhodesian situation continued to threaten international peace and declared that the Council should envisage the necessary sanctions to enable the Zimbabwe people to exercise the right to self-determination.

In its letter, the African nations said it was regrettable that Great Britain had not entered into negotiations with the leaders of the African political parties with the view to setting up a legitimate Zimbabwe Government.

Osorio-Tafall, bring Greek and Turkish Cypriot leaders together to seek a settlement.

Ambassador Zenos Rosides of Cyprus spoke of a moving rebirth of amity between the two communities and hoped for a positive response from the Turkish Cypriots to President Makarios' recent lifting of existing restrictions.

For Turkey, Ambassador Orhan Eralp said the "relatively optimistic" prospects today resulted largely from the withdrawal of Greek troops above the Treaty limits from the island after last year's crisis.

The Greek Representative, Ambassador Bitsios, said his country had steadfastly supported the cause of peace, and had recently opened talks with Turkey on contentious issues that could be dealt with bilaterally.

Among other speakers, Lord Caradon of the United Kingdom and Ambassador George Ignatief of Canada said their countries would maintain their units with the Force. Lord Caradon also pledged one million dollars to help defray the Force's costs.

Ambassador William Buffum of the United States, the major financial contributor to the Force, said this support would be maintained. He noted the continuing deficit in the Force's budget, and joined Ambassador Ignatief in urging nations that had no contributed to do so. Financing of the Force is on a voluntary basis.

Ambassador Jacob Malik of the Soviet Union — back at the UN after an absence of 15 years — said he did not oppose the three-month extension since the Government of Cyprus and the other parties agreed to it. However, he declared, a settlement required the elimination of all foreign forces and bases.

Ambassador Armand Berard of France told the Council that the UN Force's further mandate must not justify any delay in reaching a settlement.

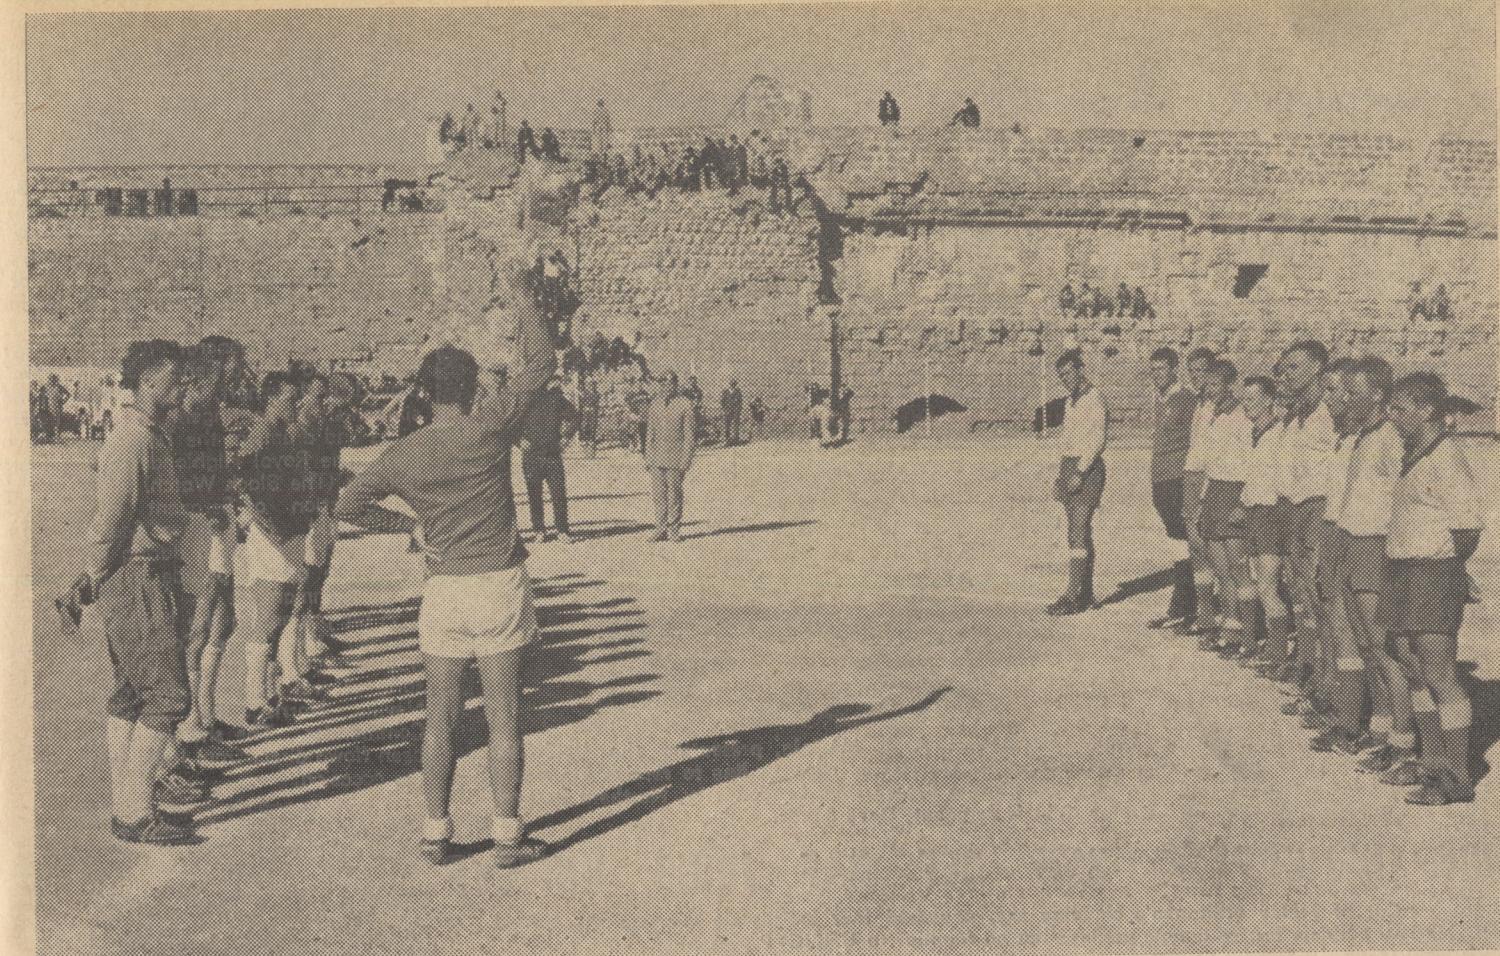

Psst — Væk!

Som et led i normaliseringsbestræbelserne på Cypern blev UN-vejspærringen ved Ledra Palace den 13. marts nedlagt af A-KMP. Ligesom ved en bedre grundstensnedlæggelse (med modsat fortegn) var det CH/DANCON OL C.J.K. Severinsen, der fjernede den første sæk på slaget kl. 1400. Herefter forsvandt resten af vejspærringen på rekordtid som følge af en glimrende indsats af "mænmerne" fra A-KMP, således at kl. 1425 var vejspærringen væk.

DANCON - NYT

Efter en meget spændende slutkamp i håndboldturneringen mellem C-KMP og A-KMP, som endte 15-13 til C-KMP, overrakte OL C.J.K. Severinsen den utsatte pokal til Charles anfører SG M. Andersen.

Arvfienden DANCON slagen 4-1 i söndagens fotbollskamp

Vår arvfiende på Cypern - DANCON - slogs tillbaka med 4-1 vid en fotbollslandskamp på Stadium i Old City i Famagusta i söndags eftermiddag. I halvtid var ställningen 1-0 till SWEDCON. Bäste man i det svenska laget var centerforward Sture Qvarfordt, från STR-komp och Uddevalla. Han angav segermålen genom att göra de två första svenska målen. Torsten Bloom, 3. komp och Huskvarna, svarade för tredje målet och Kurt Enoksson, CIVPOL, Norrköping, för det fjärde. Den svenska segeren är meriterande inte minst med tanke på att danskarne hade en världsmästare med i laget, Jörgen Pedersen, DANCON:s målvakt. Det skall tilläggas att VM-tecknet som Jörgen Pedersen innehämtar gäller handboll.

DANCON-laget var klara favoriter när de två elvorna sprang ut på plan, men di svenska ville anförlunda. Sture Qvarfordt inledde med 1-0 i första halvlek och fortsatte med 2-0 i andra. Torsten Bloom ökade på till 3-0 och Kurt Enoksson avslutade den svenska målfabrikationen med 4-0 innan det svenska reduceringsmålet kom. Landskampen gick i strålande väder med många åskådare utmed arenan. En tupp ingrep i ett skede av kampanen men avisades från planen av den turkcypriskt domaren, som för övrigt blåste av matchen fem minuter för tidigt. Ordningen återställdes dock och full tid uppnåddes så småningom. Det svenska laget spelade snabbt och snitsigt. Luftspelet behärskade man dock inte, och det samma får sägas om de svenska hörnorna. Dessa två saker måste alltså tränas upp till returkampen.

230 HELICOPTER SQN DET RAF JOINS UNFICYP

Out of Friday afternoon's clouding sky, appeared four helicopters carrying the United Nations emblem but of a type perhaps not so familiar to UNFICYP personnel.

The four flying machines were Whirlwinds of 230 Helicopter Squadron, RAF, under command of Squadron-Leader David Todd. They had flown direct from Odham, Hampshire, to Nicosia in nine hops after leaving UK on Monday.

The route took them across France, stopping at Orleans-Bracy, Lyons and Nice, on to Italy where they flipped from Pisa to Rome and then Brindisi. The last legs were across the Aegean Sea to Athens, then to the island of Rhodes and thence to their destination — Nicosia.

It was a unique trip for the detachment to undertake and was summed up by Squadron-Leader Todd on arrival when he said "it was great fun!"

The detachment is in the process of taking over duties from 72 Squadron, RAF, detachment, under present command of Flight-Lieutenant Guthrie Young. They will return to the UK along the same route with their Wessex 'choppers' as 230 Sqn's Whirlwinds used — to show that they can do it too!

Welcome 230 and good luck on your return to UK, 72.

General Mogg Visits BRITCON UN Units

On Saturday, the Headquarters was visited by Lieutenant-General Sir John Mogg, KCB, CBE, DSO, currently General Officer Commanding-in-Chief, Southern Command in UK. In April he becomes the first GOC-in-C of the newly-constituted Strategic Command in UK.

General Mogg's visit to UNFICYP was in his dual role of Colonel Commandant of the Royal Green Jackets and the Army Air Corps.

ROAD SAFETY CORNER

1. ROUNDABOUTS

At roundabouts or uncontrolled cross roads give way to traffic approaching from the right.

Clear signals, the careful regulation of speed and maximum consideration for others are essential.

2. TURNING ROUND

If you have to reverse your direction in a main road it is safer and often quicker to make a detour to the left, but if this is not practicable, reverse into a side turning on the right where from your driving position you have the maximum visibility ahead and astern.

3. LIGHTS

In poorly lit areas, drive on dipped headlights. Make sure they are adjusted so as to avoid dazzling others. Check that all lights are working and clean before any night journey.

4. FITNESS TO DRIVE

If, for any reason, you feel off colour, tired or unable to concentrate — stop driving. If you need glasses for adequate vision — wear them.

5. MAINTENANCE

Neglect of even minor items of maintenance may start a chain of events leading to disaster. If you know something needs attention — get it done at once.

Give these points the attention they deserve!

On arrival at the Headquarters on Saturday morning, General Mogg was greeted by the Force Commander, Lieutenant-General A. E. Martola. He then inspected the smart, kilted, Quarter Guard provided by the Duty Contingent's regiment — the 1st Battalion The Royal Highlanders — of Canada (The Black Watch).

After meeting the Special Representative of the Secretary-General in Cyprus, Mr B. F. Osorio-Tafall, General Mogg went to the helicopter pad where he visited the UNFICYP Flight, Army Air Corps, under command of Major David Craig, MBE, GM. The Flight is now the only Army Air Corps unit in the Middle and Near East. He spoke to all officers and men of the Flight during his visit, before flying in one of the Sioux to Polis, Anadhiou and Polemidia.

At its Headquarters he spent the week-end and Monday with the 1st Battalion of his Regiment,

The Royal Green Jackets, where his son, Captain Nigel Mogg, is the Signals Officer.

"Apprehension" Voiced By France on Future UN Peace - Keeping Role

In the Special Committee which is looking into the whole problem of UN peace-keeping operations and their financing, France last week reiterated its conviction that armed force could be used by the UN only on the basis of a decision from the UN Security Council.

Addressing the Committee, currently meeting at UN Headquarters in New York, Ambassador Armand Berard of France said that the study the Committee is called upon to make for the UN General Assembly by July on matters relating to facilities, services and personnel which might be provided for peace-keeping operations, could only bring out the divergencies between the concepts of various Members, and these divergencies concerned the very nature of peace-keeping operations. They were based on varying interpretations of the Charter, and, thus, the study of "practical aspects" could not be dissociated from constitutional problems.

Apprehension was also caused by the fact, he stated, that certain delegations wanted to avoid all controversy over fundamental questions. This led to the conclusion that these delegations could not find confirmation for their theses in the document to which France subscribed along with others.

Formulations regarding "peace-keeping operations by consent" were apt to lead the United Nations towards "dangerous practices".

The precedents of the forces in the Congo and the Middle visited the UNFICYP Flight, Army Air Corps, under command of Major David Craig, MBE, GM. The Flight is now the only Army Air Corps unit in the Middle and Near East. He spoke to all officers and men of the Flight during his visit, before flying in one of the Sioux to Polis, Anadhiou and Polemidia.

At its Headquarters he spent the week-end and Monday with the 1st Battalion of his Regiment, The Royal Green Jackets, where his son, Captain Nigel Mogg, is the Signals Officer.

East, he went on to say, were reason for prudence regarding a system of rapid and perfect United Nations intervention, which, in fact, would be based on misunderstanding and would create illusions.

France, he declared, wanted to reiterate its conviction that armed force should only be utilized in exceptional cases strictly under Article 43 of the Charter, and could be based only on Security Council decision. Only in such a framework should the Committee undertake the study, he added.

In addition to operations with the use of armed force, there was a whole gamut of activities which the General Assembly could undertake, such as observation, surveillance or inquiry. In this connexion, he supported the suggestion that the Committee examine the means for assuring greater effectiveness for this type of activities.

TEXT OF RESOLUTION

Following is the text of the resolution submitted by the President of the Security Council, Mr. Ousmane Soce Diop of Senegal, adopted unanimously by the Council at United Nations Headquarters in New York on Monday afternoon, 18 March 1968:

"The Security Council,

Noting from the report of the Secretary-General of 9 March 1968 (S/8446) that in the present circumstances the United Nations Peace-Keeping Force in Cyprus is still needed if peace is to be maintained in the island,

Noting that the Government of Cyprus has agreed that in view of the prevailing conditions in the island it is necessary to continue the Force beyond 26 March 1968,

Noting, from the Observations in the report, the new conditions prevailing in the island,

1. Reaffirms its resolution 186 (1964) of 4 March, 187 (1964) of 13 March, 192 (1964) of 20 June, 193 (1964) of 9 August, 194 (1964) of 25 September and 198 (1964) of 18 December 1964, 201 (1965) of 19 March, 206 (1965) of 15 June, 207 (1965) of 10 August and 219 (1965) of 17 December 1965, 220 (1966) of 16 March, 222 (1966) of 16 June, 231 (1966) of 15 December 1966, 238 (1967) of 19 June and 244 (1967) of 22 December 1967; and the consensus expressed by the President at the 1143rd meeting on 11 August 1964 and at the 1383rd meeting of 24/25 November 1967;

2. Urges the parties concerned to act with the utmost restraint and to continue determined co-operative efforts to achieve the objectives of the Security Council by availing themselves of the present auspicious climate and opportunities;

3. Extends once more the stationing in Cyprus of the United Nations Peace-Keeping Force, established under Security Council resolution 186 (1964) for a further period of three months ending 26 June 1968, in the expectation that by them sufficient progress towards a final solution will make possible a withdrawal or substantial reduction of the Force".
