Exit strategy

the implementation of the Government of the DRC’s announced reforms to address the structural drivers of conflict, and that this tentative timeline would have to remain flexible and to take into account the security situation based on ongoing assessments, as well as the red lines set out in the review justifying a pause in the transition;

50. Recalls the commitments made by the Government of the DRC, encourages the government to swiftly address the following key issues in order to make the support and technical assistance of MONUSCO and other partners more efficient, not precluding other priorities jointly identified between the government of the DRC and MONUSCO ahead of the elaboration of the joint strategy as outlined above:
